INTRODUCTION

Our income rewards initiative can help you cover various financial needs and subscriptions. It's a really effective way to manage your finances and build long-term security.

The beauty of this system is that it's sustainable. As more people sign up and use the services, your income grows. This means you can steadily increase your earnings and cover more of your financial needs over time.

First, let's talk about your subscription costs. For example, if you have a MyProtector estate administration fee of R160 per month, you can use the income rewards to cover this cost.

Here's how it works:

Our income strategy offers 20% rewards on all qualifying services. So, to cover your R160/month estate administration fee, you would need to generate income from qualifying services. The calculation is simple:  $R160 \times 20\% = R32$  (if one of your affiliate codes subscribed to a R160 service) in qualifying services needed. This means you need  $R160 / R32 = 5$  subscribers to cover your own estate administration subscription at R160 per month. By promoting our services and getting five people to sign up, you can cover your subscription costs.

Now, let's apply this to other financial goals. Say you have a goal to save R500 a month for emergencies. Using the same approach, you'd need  $R500 / R32 = 16$  subscribers. Similarly, if you need to cover insurance premiums or pay down debts, you can calculate the subscriber target based on those specific amounts.

We also provide support and tools, like marketing materials to help you understand how many subscribers you need to achieve your goals. By setting realistic targets and developing a strategy, you can effectively use the 20% income rewards to manage your finances.

In the long run, this can also help you build a secure retirement income and even create a legacy for future generations. Imagine being able to leave a steady stream of revenue for your loved ones.

If you have any specific goals in mind, break them down and see how many subscribers you'd need to achieve them. This way, you can start planning and working towards a financially secure future with confidence.

The best thing about the affiliate income is the fact that you DO NOT have to sell anything.

MyProtector will actually do the sales for you.
